| 9506.80 | 1959 | 7 July 1959 | Letter | President, Victorian Section, New Education Fellowship | The Editor, The Age | Re Conant Report. "Why not here too?" Refers to article published in The Age on 4/7/59 - Minister of Education pays a tribute to Dr Conant's latest book on education. Cunningham suggests Conant, as an independent expert, be commissioned to do a similar survey here because he undertook a brief study of Australian schools during a visit ten years before. Also, should we have separate schools for academic & technical studies? Murray Report has been beneficial to university studies in Australia. |
| 9506.81 | 1961 | 19 May 1961 | Letter | Walker C F, Headmaster, Box Hill Grammar School | Cunningham K S | From C F Walker MA: asks Cunningham for feedback on his report, prepared for an upcoming school council meeting, re opposition to the development of a co-educational school surfacing due to potential erection of new buildings. |
| 9506.82 | 1961 | 16 Oct 1961 | Letter | Parker R S, Research School of Social Sciences, Australian National University | Cunningham K S | Follow up to the writer's letter of 25/9, more information is available about Mr John Redrup's project, guided by Prof Barrie. The project, re analysis of problems facing universities in relation to enrolments & staffing, is less closely connected to Cunningham than initially thought. It will be a sociological study, rather than a study in educational theory. |
| 9506.83 | 1961 | 25 Sept 1961 | Letter | Parker R S, "as above" | Cunningham K S | Thanks for Cunningham's letter of 15/9. Provides detailed comments on Cunningham's suggestion that some "educational responsibilities" could be allocated to local government level. Compares with legislation for State Libraries, which was considered from the outset, but this hasn't been the case with administration of education. Discusses New Zealand education system in comparison. |

| 9506.194.11.2 | 1971 | 30 Aug 1971 | Letter | Cunningham K S | Hall J, Principal Psychologist, Education Department | To John Hall: re honouring the work of S. D. Porteus, Head of Bell St Fitzroy School for mentally deficient children from 1913. School building possibly earmarked for demolition. Believes the school was the first of its kind in Australia & has written to director General, D J S Verco, to find out (Sydney the only other possible contender). Any memorial should also acknowledge Frank Tate & Inspector Gates. Cunningham cross references Porteus' autobiography, "A Psychologist of Sorts", pp. 30-35. Reflects on Tate's high opinion of Porteus. |
| 9506.194.11.3 | 1971 | 22 Sept 1971 | Letter | Verco D J A, Director-General of Education, Department of Education, NSW | Cunningham K S | From David J A Verco: received Cunningham's letter of 20 th August 1971; confirms that Bell St. Fitzroy school was the first of its kind in Australia; Sydney's first school for education of "mentally subnormal children" was Glenfield Special School, which opened in Feb 1927; however, some classes operated in some public schools since 1920. Outlines similar provisions initiated in NSW, eg Newcastle Asylum for Imbeciles from 1871, and other special school initiatives – Jefferis Cottage for Feeble-Minded Children (Parramatta) in 1908 & Mittagong Cottage Homes for boys in 1911. |

| 9506.194.13 | 1967 | 5 Nov 1967 | Aerogramme | Porteus S D, 2620 Anuenue St, Honolulu, Hawaii | Cunningham K S | From Prof Stan D Porteus: pleased that both he & Cunningham have been elected among the first fellows of the Australian Psychological Association. Reflects & reminisces on their long friendship & wealth of experience since the Bell Street Fitzroy days. Hopes that these memories will stimulate Cunningham to write. Porteus continues to write, but is winding up with his autobiography, "A Psychologist of Sorts" (due in early 1968). Was invited as guest of honour at the APA anniversary in Washington in September to receive a certificate of service. In 1962, shared [illegible] psychology award with Carl Rogers. Also shares some personal family news. |
| 9506.194.14 | 1970 | 20 July 1970 | Letter | Porteus S D | Cunningham K S | From Prof Stan D Porteus: [Annotations: This may be a duplicate but if so it may also be more legible / From Porteus L.C.] Re Cunningham's last letter to him: was glad to be reminded of Bell Street days and their associations. Owes a lot to Frank Tate, Mr Gates, and Dr Smyth. However, had some issues with Smyth re a lost opportunity for recognition through his & Berry's study in "Intelligence and Social Valuation", intended for submission for the 1915 "Higenbotham Scholarship" [sic] for original research. Fitts read their study & said similar already published in Germany, therefore danger of accusations of plagiarism. Porteus eventually received an offer from Vineland – mentions support from Dr Greenman (Vineland Research Committee) and Samuel Fels (Vineland Laboratory), who had both begun to distrust Goddard's Kallikak Family study and welcomed Porteus' scepticism when appraising psychological data. Asks for family news & laments loneliness of old age. |
