2007

Embracing the challenge of leadership in Indigenous education

Chris Sarra
Indigenous Education Leadership Institute

Follow this and additional works at: https://research.acer.edu.au/research_conference_2007

Part of the Educational Assessment, Evaluation, and Research Commons

Recommended Citation
Sarra, Chris, "Embracing the challenge of leadership in Indigenous education" (2007).

This Conference Paper is brought to you by the 1997-2008 ACER Research Conference Archive at ACEReSearch. It has been accepted for inclusion in 2007 - The Leadership Challenge - Improving learning in schools by an authorized administrator of ACEReSearch. For more information, please contact repository@acer.edu.au.
Embracing the challenge of leadership in indigenous education

Abstract
In his address Dr Sarra will articulate some of the most fundamental barriers to the pursuit of stronger smarter educational outcomes for Indigenous children in Australian schools. He will reflect on his work as an educator, and a researcher with an interest in teachers’ attitudes and expectations of Aboriginal students, and challenge other educators to realise that we do have the knowledge and potential to make profound change in Indigenous education.