Classroom displays - how much is too much?

New research from the UK recommends...

Placing displays on windows should be avoided (loss of light), especially if it results in no uncovered areas.

Wall displays should provide a lively sense to the room. As a rule of thumb, 20-50% of the available wall space should be kept clear.

Too little

About right

Too much