

Trust in teachers to deliver a good education

The Global Teacher Status Index surveyed 1000 representative respondents* in various countries to understand the level of trust in teachers' ability to deliver a good education. Respondents were asked to rate teachers on a scale of one to 10. The average ratings for some countries are shown below...

* Respondents were aged from 16 to 70.

For this scale, one indicated a low rating and 10 indicated a high rating.
