The latest Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership report on initial teacher education includes survey data about the career intentions of teachers with one to five years’ teaching experience.

When asked about their intentions for the foreseeable future...

- 56% said they were not likely to leave classroom teaching.
- 22% said they would leave classroom teaching.
- 22% were unsure.

Of those who said they would leave...

- 15% said they would leave within one to five years.
- 4% said they would leave within six to 10 years.
- 3% said they would leave after 10 years.