

School safety

global comparisons

Research shows a positive school and classroom environment has a strong influence on students' learning and wellbeing, and teachers' confidence and self-efficacy. The latest OECD Teaching and Learning International Survey (TALIS 2018) asked principals about safety at their school, including incidents of bullying and cyberbullying, intimidation or verbal abuse of teachers or staff, and violence among students.

Percentage of principals reporting that the following incidents occurred at least weekly in their school

* Countries chosen for TALIS comparison significantly outperformed Australia in all three PISA assessment domains in 2015
