

Wise words on

COLLABORATION

Looking back on your experience as an educator, if you could share one piece of advice with your peers, what would it be? This question features in our annual reader survey, and here are some of your responses on the topic of collaboration.

'Collaboration is an important key to a fulfilling journey as a teacher.'

'Teaching today is best approached as a collaborative endeavour. You need to work with others to ensure you offer the students the best range of experiences and opportunities.'

'You are not alone. Develop and strengthen teamwork with colleagues.'

'Collaboration and commitment to a shared goal is key to improving student outcomes.'

'Share your learning with your peers and teams; our collaboration as teachers is the key to greater success for all of our learners.'

'Collaboration is at the heart of all effective education: collaboration with your colleagues, your students and with their parents.'

'Share ideas. support each other. Work as a team.'

Teacher

www.teachermagazine.com.au